Contents

Purpose and procedure

Pharmacotherapy and cognitive behavioural therapy: similarly cost effective compared with community referral for disadvantaged women with major depression ........................................ 16

Other articles noted

A structured activity programme reduces depressive symptoms in moderately depressed older men with coronary heart disease, but not women .................. 17

Prognosis

Training nursing home care staff to recognise psychopathology improves their ability to identify depressed residents ...................................... 18

Therapeutics

Review: cholinesterase inhibitors reduce burden and care time for informal carers of people with Alzheimer's disease ........................................ 19

Neither vitamin E nor donepezil delays progression from amnestic mild cognitive impairment to Alzheimer's disease in the long term ............... 20

Review: light therapy is an effective treatment for seasonal affective disorder ........................................ 21

Supported employment interventions are effective for people with severe mental illness ........................................ 22

Aetiology

Epilepsy or a family history of epilepsy increases the risk of schizophrenia or schizophrenia-like psychosis ........... 23

History of psychiatric hospital admission increases the risk of suicide less in the very old than in middle aged people ........................................ 24

Prevalence

Suicide ideation and attempts are more prevalent in people aged 25–44 years in Australia but become less prevalent in older people ........................................ 25

Young people admitted with self-injury had more severe psychiatric disorders in 2000 than in 1990 ............... 26

About 26% of people in the US have an anxiety, mood, impulse control, or substance disorder .................. 27

About 30% of men with schizophrenia or schizoaffective disorders have obsessive-compulsive symptoms ........ 28

---

Evidence-Based Mental Health

Volume 9 • Number 1 • February 2006

www.ebmentalhealth.com